

Please join us for an

INTERFAITH BREAKING OF THE BREAD with LOW-WAGE FEDERAL CONTRACT WORKERS

Tuesday, July 29th at Columbus Circle, Union Station at 9a

On Tuesday, July 29th, national faith leaders will once again stand in support of low-wage federal contract workers who are calling on the President to create a Good Jobs Nation.

All of our faith traditions emphasize the virtues of hospitality, solidarity and reciprocity.

That's why we will gather around a table and break bread with low-wage workers to symbolically declare that there is enough abundance among us so that all people can partake in the fruits of the earth.

By gathering around the table with workers, we will call on the President to encourage the CEOs of federal contractors to do the same – to come to the table for fellowship, sharing and bargaining with their workers.

WHAT: INTERFAITH BREAKING OF THE BREAD WITH LOW-WAGE WORKERS

WHO: NATIONAL FAITH LEADERS & GOOD JOBS NATION WORKERS

WHEN: 9AM on TUESDAY, JULY 29

WHERE: COLUMBUS CIRCLE, UNION STATION

MORE INFO: CONTACT REV. MICHAEL LIVINGSTON, INTERFAITH WORKER JUSTICE
Email: mlivingsto@iwj.org Phone: 609.847.7296

Join us and let us declare that there is enough for all and that no worker should go hungry or be unable to meet their basic needs. By breaking bread with these low-wage workers, we can model how a fair and just economy should work for all people!