Grandparents Climate Action Day

presenting* Keynote Speaker, Dr. James Hansen September 9 & 10, 2015
Washington, D. C.

Rally with hundreds of elders on the steps of the Capitol Building. Bring an urgent message to our nation's leaders that now is the time to take strong action on a comprehensive national energy policy to combat climate change.

The grandchildren and future generations depend on us.

"What we are doing to the future of our children and the other species on the planet is a clear, moral issue."

-James Hansen

•former head of NASA Goddard Institute for Space Studies

•Director of the Program on Climate Science, Awareness and Solutions, Columbia University's Earth Institute

Locally co-sponsored by Unitarian Universalists for Social Justice
