

If you yearn for peace in the Holy Land, don't miss these opportunities to meet

ALICE ROTHCHILD

who will discuss her new book

On the Brink: Israel and Palestine on the Eve of the 2014 Gaza Invasion and present her 60-minute documentary

Voices Across the Divide

Friday, November 7, 6:00-8:00 pm

Calvary Baptist Church (www.calvarydc.org)

755 8th Street NW, Washington, DC (Gallery Place Metro)

Sunday, November 9, 4:00-6:00 pm

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church (www.saeccp.org)

4512 College Avenue, College Park, MD (1 block E of U-MD & Baltimore Ave/Rt. 1)

ALICE ROTHCHILD is a physician, Middle East peace activist, co-chair of Jewish Voice for Peace Boston, author and film-maker.

ON THE BRINK chronicles a fact-finding visit to the West Bank and Israel during the last three weeks of June 2014. Rothchild turns her powers of careful observation and her deep understanding of the occupation into an honest, heart breaking, collection of reports from the field. She documents the stories and lives that do not make the evening news, but are essential to understanding the context in which that news occurs.

VOICES ACROSS THE DIVIDE explores the Israeli/Palestinian conflict through rarely heard personal stories. It interweaves the testimony of Palestinians in the Diaspora with Rothchild's own journey to understand the Palestinian narrative, as well as the implications of deeply held cultural beliefs in the Jewish community. The result: a model of open dialogue grounded in mutual respect.

Each event will include a reception with the author.
Copies of her books and film will be available for purchase.

Please join us. All are welcome!